Outline of the Syllabus	The Program's thrust is to provide the students a sound background in theoretical and skill-oriented courses relevant for productive careers in software industry, corporate sector, Govt. organizations and academia. The program emphasizes providing skill-based environment for teaching and research in the core and emerging areas of software technology to solve mathematical, computing, communications/networking and commercial problems. This Master's Degree Program has been designed with a semester approach in mind. The 1st semester of first year courses are aimed at skills development in computers using various technologies while the second semester of first year is more focused on core courses providing conceptual frame work and the third and forth semester of second year provides the specialization and the project work. A two-year degree (Four-semesters) in Computer Applications will get skills and information not only about Computer and Information Technology but also in communicati

		Outline of the Syllabus	Political Science is study of politics. The origin of Political Science as an independent branch of study is very old. In western societies it can be traced back to the ancient Greek era. In oriental society like India it can be traced back even more in the past. As a branch of study Political Science contributes in the betterment of life and society. Therefore, Political Science as a subject has very important and relevant role to play in the world in general and in developing society like India in particular. Master of Arts in Political Science is a Post graduate Programme which gives the comprehensive and analytical knowledge of the subject through teaching, learning, research and extension activities to the learners. Through inculcating the critical and strong understanding of the subject this Programme aims to provide learners' knowledge, skill, attitude and values-based education for leading a meaningful life and contributing to Nation building.
